An aerial photograph of the Mainz Hbf station area. The image shows a large railway station with multiple tracks and platforms on the left side. A central square area is visible, surrounded by buildings and streets. Three red arrows point to specific locations: one to a taxi stand near the top left, one to a bus stop near the center right, and one to the main exit of the station near the bottom left. The surrounding area includes residential buildings, parking lots, and a curved road on the right side.
